MEDICINAL.

And many other aches to which women And many other acnes to which wonten are peculiarly subject are generally the result of a diseased condition of the womanly organism. When this diseased condition is cured, sideache, backache, headache, etc., are cured also.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription establishes regularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration and cures female weakness. When these diseases are cured the aches they cause are also cured.

the aches they cause are also cured.

"I will drop you a few lines to-day to let you know that I am feeling well now," writes Miss. Annie Stephens, of Belleville, Wood Co., West Va, "I feel like a new woman. I took several bottles of 'Favorile Prescription' and of the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' I have no head-ache now, no backache, and no pain in my side any more. No bearing-down pain any more. I think that there is no medicine like Dr. Pierce's medicine. I thank you very much for what you have done for me—your medicine has done me much good."

Letters from Women

Cured by the use of Kodol are received dally. Their troubles nearly all begin with indigestion or other stomach disorder.

If the food you ext fails to give strength to your body, it is because the juices secreted by the stomach and digestive organs are inadequate to transform the nutrient properties of the food into blood. That is indigestion. The system is deprived of the amount of nourishment required to keep up the strength, and the result is that one or more of the delicate organs gradually grows weak, and then weaker, until finally it is diseased. Here a great mistake is made. diseased. Here a great mistake is made. That of treating the diseased organ. The best doctors in the land make this very mistake. Why should they? It is so easy to see that the trouble is not there.

Kodol Cures

This famous remedy puts the stomach and digestive organs in a healthy condition so that rich, red blood is sent coursing through the veins and arteries of every muscle, tissue and fiber throughout every organ of the en-tire body, and by Nature's law of health, full strength and vigor is soon restored to each. Kodol cures indigestion, dyspepsia and ai stomach disorders.

I have taken Kodol for nearly two months after each meal and it is the only remedy that gave relief from the terrible pains I After a time I would take it but ence a day, and now, while I keep a bottle handy I seldom need it, as it has cured me. Mrs. J. W. Coolbauch, Mile Center, N. Y.

DEATH OF GENERAL CLAY. Hon, Cassius M. Clay, the "sage of Whitehall," former minister to Russia and a widely known Kentuckian, died at his home, at Whitehall, near Richmond, Ky., at 9:10 o'clock last night.

Cassius M. Clay was born in Kentucky on October 19, 1810, in Madison county. His father was rich, owning immen tracts of land, and the son had the advaltage of the best education, ending in Yale College, where he was graduated in 1832, It was while he was a student that he, the son of a slaveholder working hundreds of negroes on his plantations heard William Lloyd Garrison, the famous Massachusetts abolitionist, making one of his fiery speeches. From that hour Clay was an abolitionist. That is why he became one of the worst-hated men in Kentucky. He went to his native county of Madison to practice law. He was gifted with the silvery style of oratory and the personal magnetism pe-culiar to some Kentuckians, and in 1835 he was elected to the Kentucky legislature. In 1837 and 1839 he was a men ber of the convention that nominated General Harrison, under whom his father had fought, for the presidency. He made Lexington his home in 1840 and there ran for the legislature, but was defeated because of his radical anti-slavery ber of the convention that nominated views. He often addressed political meetings, proclaiming his views freely but he never spoke without a bowle knife concealed about his person and a brace of pistols, with their butts pro-truding, in the gripsack which he kept at his feet. In the Mexican war he

tary title was necessary to success in a "fighting state like Kentucky." words shows that he prepared for trouble:
"I selected for my office," runs the account in his memoirs, "a brick building and lined the outside door with sheet tiron to prevent it being burned. I purchased two brass four-pounder of the count in the count of the count in the count in the memoirs, the count is prevented by the count in the coun in case of the last extremity." He Clay defended me, worked for General Taylor's nomination served as captain of a volunteer com-pany, declaring that the reason why he served was because he thought a mili-

in the convention of 1848 and carried Kentucky for him. He called the convention of the emancipationists in 1848, at Frankfort, and in 1850 he separated from the whig party and ran as an anti-slavery candidate for governor, receiving upward of 5,000 votss. He worked for Fremont's election in 1856, and for Lincoln in 1860, and Lincoln appointed him minister to Russia in 1861. Clay came back from Russia a 1861. Clay came back from Russia a year after he got there to serve as a major general of volunteers in the army of the north. He made a famous speech in Washington, declaring that he would never draw a sword while slavery was protected in the seceding states. Then he went back to Russia as minister and remained there until 1869. In 1876 he supported Tilden for president, but in 1884 he advocated Blaine's election.

General Clay was once enormously rich, but his broad acres of fine Kentucky land became less and less valuable to him until the taxes were a drain on his resources. His fine old mansion was built by his father at the beginning of the last century at a cost of $50,000, and improvements were afterwards added that cost $30,000. General Clay's private life was no less interesting than his public career. He fought many duels, killed four men and nearly killed a fifth. One of his most famous duels was with Will Brown, who was said to have had to fight and proven lost a battle. The the last century at a cost of $50,000, and 40 fights and never lost a battle. The proslavery men arranged to have Brown kill Clay. At a political meeting Brown called Clay a liar and struck him with his umbrella. What followed is told in Clay's own words: "I saw at once that it meant fight, and when I recogniz-WHOLESALE GEOCERS, your medicine will be most popular. About a year ago I began to have a worn out tired feeling with lassitude, pains in the back and head which kept increasing every month. I felt that I needed something, but to get the right medicine was the trouble. I finally decided on your Wine of Cardui and only needed to take three bottles when I was fully recovered."

WHEN Miss Rose Owens, who has a responsible position in the Government service at Washington, D. C., decided to try Wine of Cardui, it is not a strong medicine but may be taken every day in the year by any woman with benefit. It does not force results, but corrects derangements of the menstrual organs. It strengthens the nervous system, gives tone to the bodily functions, acts directly on the genital organs, and is the finest tonic for women known to the science of medicine.

chased two brass four-pounder cannon at Cincinnati and placed them, loaded with shot and nails, on a table breast high; had folding doors secured with a chain which could open upon the mob and give play to the cannon. I furnished my office with Mexican lances and a limited number of guns. There were limited number of guns. There were limited number of guns. There were my captors and again made for Brown six or eight persons who stood ready to defend me. If defeated they were to escape by a trap door in the roof, and I had placed a keg of powder, with a match, which I could set off and blow up the office, with all my effects, and this I should most certainly have done to make the conspiracy, and Henry in the conspiracy of the stream of the conspiracy of the conspiracy.
